Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 11 February 2004.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 338,746 to Hofmann.

3. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 1,220,515 to Kantro. See Figs. 3, 4 and 6.

4. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,981,587 to Gerrie.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 5,921,463 to Boyle et al. and German Patent No. 42 03 648 to Peters.

Boyle et al. discloses the claimed device except for envelope having a liner secured to the rear panel. Peters discloses that it is known in the art to secure a liner to the rear panel of an analogous envelope. See Figs. 7 and 8. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the envelope of Boyle et al. with the liner of Peters, in order to form a pocket between the liner and the rear panel.

Regarding claims 2 and 6, Boyle et al. and Peters discloses the claimed invention except for liner defining at least two pockets. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to secure the liner of Peters to the rear panel of Boyle et al. such that it defines at least two pockets, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art.

7. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 6,889,836 to Colloton.

Colloton discloses the claimed invention except it is uncertain if the liner forming the additional pockets 63 is secured to the inner surface or the outer surface of the panel 58. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to secure the liner forming the additional pockets 63 to the inner surface of the panel 58 in Colloton, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

9. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
